INSUREtrust has added Hunter Maskill to the company as an Executive Vice President.

Norcross, GA (February 11, 2019) – Atlanta-based INSUREtrust is pleased to announce Hunter Maskill will join the executive team with Christiaan Durdaller and Zane Goldthorp. He will focus on Professional Liability / Cyber product development as well as national accounts, broker relations, and claims assistance. In 2019, INSUREtrust plans to bring unique offerings to their top trading partners and clients. Hunter will be working with Professional Lines Broker Hannah Hoeflinger on the development of new educational offerings and EVP Christiaan Durdaller on the development of new product offerings. He will be based in the company's Atlanta headquarters.

Hunter joins INSUREtrust's brokerage team with extensive experience in underwriting in the professional and cyber risk insurance industry, including 13 years at AIG. Most recently, he ran the Professional Liability and Cyber team for the Southeast. Under his leadership, the Southeast grew to the largest middle market region in the country at AIG. Prior to that, Hunter was both an Assistant Manager and a Senior Underwriter for the team. He began his insurance career as a property & casualty claims adjuster at AIG.

Hunter studied at the University of Georgia, where he graduated, with honors, from the Terry College of Business.

About INSUREtrust

INSUREtrust, located in the Atlanta metro area, is a national insurance wholesaler that seeks to simplify insurance. In April 1997, INSUREtrust was the first company in the world to successfully develop, underwrite, and market an insurance policy covering the new commercial risks generated with using the Internet – such as privacy and security breaches. For 21 years, INSUREtrust has been a leading cyber liability insurance company. In 2017, INSUREtrust won "Cyber Risk Broking Team of the Year" at Advisen's Fourth Annual Cyber Risk Awards.
